Miss Francis Collier was the charming hostess Friday evening at a cinch party. Those present were Misses Mae Hughes, Carrie Currey, Altie Marksbury, Messrs. Joe Robinson, Ode Shugars, John L. Anderson, of Washington City, and Mrs. Fisher Gaines, of Danville.

Many Lancaster friends will regret to learn that Dr. W. N. Bush and family will shortly move to St. Louis to reside. No family stands closer to the hearts of our people than they, and their departure is regretted on all hands. We are glad to note an improvement in Dr. Bush's health, and it is hoped he will soon be fully restored to his former strength.

CUPID'S CAPERS.

RICE-CARMEN.

The following, from the Lincoln Democrat, will be interesting to many Garrard county friends of the contracting parties: "A wedding that surprised everybody was that of Miss May Etta Carman and Mr. John A. Rice, at Harrodsburg, Wednesday at high noon, when Rev. J. F. Williams united them in wedlock's holy bonds. The bride had been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. C. Sink, in Lexington. The groom met her when the train arrived at Burgin yesterday and accompanied by Miss Nellie Murphy, the attractive daughter of Mr. W. H. Murphy, and Mr. Joe H. Rice, they drove to Harrodsburg, and the ceremony was performed. Miss May Etta Carman, now Mrs. Rice, is the handsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carman, and is a wife of whom her husband is justly proud, as she combines loveliness of face and form with a disposition as sweet as flowers in May. The groom is a fine young man, a prosperous farmer, with friends as numerous as any young man in Kentucky possesses, and he is the son of Mrs. S. E. Rice, who told us yesterday that she is sure her son has won a jewel. The bride's parents did not know until this morning that they had a brand new son-in-law. The young couple and their attendants drove to the home of the groom that evening, in this county, near Hedgeville, where they are at home to their friends."

HARRIS-FAULCONER.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated yesterday evening in the parlor of the Glendon Hotel at Richmond, when Miss Nancy Harris was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Faulconer. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. N. Faulconer, of Hillsboro, Ohio, in the presence of a few friends. The bride wore an elegant blue tailor suit, hat and gloves to match. Miss Grace Kinnaird who was maid of honor wore a blue suit. Mr. Lewis West was best man. The bride is very handsome and accomplished, and will make a good help-meet to the man of her choice. The groom is one of our popular business men. They were driven to this place today, where an elegant dinner will be given in their honor by the groom's parents, Mr. Joe Faulconer and wife. THE RECORD extends many congratulations.

ELSNER-MILLER.

Mr. Joe A. Elsner, of West Virginia, and Miss Mary Rosalea Miller, accompanied by a few friends, drove to Nicholasville yesterday, and were married at St. Luke's Catholic church. A brilliant reception was given by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nepomuk Miller, near this city, on yesterday afternoon. The contracting parties are well-known, and many friends extend congratulations.

RAY-NAVE.

Mr. Wm. A. Ray and Miss Myrtle Nave, both popular and well connected, drove to Danville on Wednesday and took the marriage vows.

BOGIE-LEAVELL.

Miss Mary Leavell, one of our most popular teachers, and Mr. Jasper Bogie were married on Wednesday.

THE BALLOTS.

According to the instructions sent out by the Secretary of State regarding the printing of ballots, the Democratic device is placed at the left of the ballot, and is stated as "A gamecock in the act of crowing." The order of the others is as follows: "Next, the device of the Republican party, 'A Log Cabin'; next the device of the People's Party, 'The Plow and Hammer'; next the device of the Prohibition party, 'A Phoenix'; next the device of the Social Labor ticket, 'An Arm and Hammer'; next the device of the Social Democratic party, 'A hand holding aloft a torch.'"

THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE.

Some smart man who knows what he is talking about says: "The happiest people in the world are those who keep out of debt, out of politics, out of office, shun notoriety, make an honest living by honest means, humbly serve the living God, quietly persevere theven tenor of their way, and neglect no opportunity to do good."

TO THE TRADE.

I desire to state that after three months hard work, I have been able to secure a FIRST-CLASS LINE of MERCHANT TAILORING, from which I can make you a SUIT or an OVERCOAT for the LOW PRICE of TEN DOLLARS. Now this is NO READY MADE STUFF, but STRICTLY MERCHANT TAILORING made to your INDIVIDUAL MEASURE and a PERFECT FIT GUARANTEED IN EVERY CASE. Come and see this line before buying. J. C. HEMPHILL.

Buggies, Surries, Road wagons, Harness, Saddles, Bridles, etc., at reduced prices. This is no scheme to induce you to trade here, but I would rather give each patron a bargain, instead of offering a price where only a few secure them. I desire, and my efforts shall always be to handle such goods and make prices so interesting to you that it will not require a price to secure your patronage, so stop and think some one must pay for prices, and if you buy you help to pay for them. So call at Conns Carriage Shop, where each one secures a bargain.

THE LAST WARNING.

Don't buy cheap coal and loose your soul, And all the time be fussing, But buy Red Ash, and pay the cash, And stop the cook from cussing. Or buy Blue Gem, the storms to stem, And save all further losses; Don't cough and sneeze, and sit and freeze, But buy your coal at JOHN C. MOSS-ES.

Up-To-Date, In Every Respect.

When in Lexington, drop in and see McGurk and Spears, on Main street, near street car "center," where you will find the most choice line of fruits, cigars, etc., in the city. Their ice cream parlor is the most popular in Lexington, and their facilities for serving oysters cannot be equalled. If you want to serve fruits, cream or other delicacies, call them up by telephone and you will be supplied promptly. One of this firm, Spears, was at the battle of San Juan Hill, and with Capt. McFarland, of this city, when the latter was hit by a shell.

THEY ALL WANT HIM.

Monday, we heard several visiting newspaper men talking about the wonderful accuracy of THE RECORD's valued type, Capt. F. J. White, and all expressed a keen desire to have him with them. The daily work of Capt. White is something remarkable, and were it not for his protests, we would frequently publish some of his performances. He will be eighty years old his next birthday, but is as lively as a man of fifty. He attributes his wonderful health to steady habits and plenty of sleep. He doesn't go at his work in jerks, or jump in like he was going to set the entire paper in one day, but the steady click of his "stick" is as even as the click of a clock. He was raised up under the old time way of doing things right, and when he sees one of the latter day "know-it-all" printers waste type, make stumps, speeches at the case and spend half the time lighting a pipe, it makes the captain's bristles rise. Many days he sets three galleys (a galley is about two inches longer than this column) of lead brevier, going to work at seven, and quitting at three o'clock. One remarkable thing about Capt. White is the complete thrashing he gave King Alcohol. Like all the older Kentuckians, he once liked a toddy. He told us that he finally arrived at an age when he had sense enough to see that a dram and a day's work would not mix very long, so he at once cut it off, and has never touched a drop since. He says when he hears a man say he "can't quit" he feels like cutting an elm stick and applying it where it will do the most good. Every body is Capt. White's friend, and all wish him a many years of peace, healthy and plenty.

The GRIM REAPER.

MRS. PRUDENCE POPE.

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Prudence Pope died at the home of her son, W. H. Pope, on the Danville road Saturday. She had been a woman of unusually good health and strength until a year ago, when she began to fail. She was in her seventy-sixth year. She was a life-long member of the Baptist church and a devoted worker therein. She leaves six children, W. H., Andy, Elijah, Laura, Levenia and Mrs. Rebecca Estis. Mrs. Pope stood high in the estimation of those who knew her. The funeral was held in the Baptist church Monday morning at nine o'clock, conducted by Rev. Mr. Wolford, and the burial was in the Lancaster Cemetery.

MRS. HENRY KUHLMAN.

Died, near Bryansville, Mrs. Henry Kuhlman after a long and painful illness. Her remains were followed by a great multitude of friends and relatives to Mt. Olivet church, where Rev. L. Robinson conducted the funeral.

MISS ELLA WATSON.

On Tuesday morning a telegram, to Mr. W. McC. Johnston, announced the death of Miss Ella Watson, at the hospital in Lexington, on Monday evening, at 6:30 o'clock. The remains were brought here on Wednesday and buried in Lancaster cemetery, by the side of her father and mother, who died many years ago. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Henry N. Faulconer, now of Hillsboro, Ohio. Deceased was 35 years of age, a member of the Presbyterian church and a native of this county. Although she had been absent for several years, she was remembered by friends and neighbors and the public generally, having been post master, in this city from 1889 to 1893, the duties of which office she discharged faithfully, being very intelligent. It is stated that she had been treated for several years and finally died of heart trouble.

M. T. WARNE.

The Easton, Penn., Express, says:—"Mark T. Warne, of No. 5, Centre Square, died Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock at Stamford, Conn., where he had been staying for some time. Mr. Warne had been in ill health for three years. Eleven weeks ago he was attacked with paralysis. His condition gradually grew worse until death ensued."

The deceased man was a native of Broadway, N. J. When a young man he came to Easton and engaged in the mercantile business. Subsequently he was interested in the coal business in Phillipsburg, and still later engaged in the manufacture of mineral pulp. Mr. Warne is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. R. K. Buckman, of this city, and by one brother, Wm. Warne, of near Belvidere, N. J. Wm. Warne, of near Belvidere, N. J. Wm. Warne took an active part in politics and was one of the leading Democrats in that locality.
